2012 Guelph Technology Economy Conference – Creative Collaboration

The third annual Guelph Technology Economy Conference will be held on Tuesday January 17, 2012 at the Frank Hasenfratz Centre of Excellence in Manufacturing. The theme of the 2012 conference will be “Creative Collaboration.” Our keynote speaker is Mr. Matt Thompson, Chief Storyteller of the Mozilla Foundation.

We invite you to take advantage of this opportunity to align your organization with this high profile event attended by global thought leaders and decision makers in local companies that are making the transition to a new and prosperous economy.

The day will include a creative collaboration session with Eagles Flight, presentations from two College students who developed the top IT projects, as well as a choice of 3 workshops covering the following topics:

- Online Collaborative Initiatives
- Online Continuous Learning
- Online Web Presence

Why sponsor...

Guelph Technology Economy Conference is a great place for your business to market directly to the Business Leaders, IT Managers, Purchasers, and businesses that are interested in using technology to create a competitive advantage in this global market place.

Time is money and these attendees are keenly aware that time lost is money lost. Your organization can provide technological solutions uniquely suited to this audience that will make their business faster, smarter, and more productive. Sponsorship of this event will put your business in direct line of sight of those who are ready to change to ensure business prospers.

The doors of exceptional growth are about to open in Guelph... can you afford not to be front and centre?
